If this policy succeeds the struggle is only postnoned, and its success can only be averted by military interference, or the insertion of another clause in the Constitution disabling the States from passing any law based of Dr. Kans, containing Four Rooms with front upon distinctions of colour.

We publish, though with regret, a letter from our able "Yankee" correspondent expressing in full measures the hatred felt by many persons in the North towards the negro. As a sketch of oninion it is valuable, but we can endorse neither his fact nor arguments. He says the "loathing" between the two races is so deep-seated that amalgamation is impossible; we say that one-third adjoining Horse Stable. of the slaves are, as appears from their colunt. the result of that amalgamation.
